3 SEA TERRORS FOR UNCLE SAM

Adder, Moccasin and Grampus, the New Submarine Boats, Exceed Requirements Demanded in Every Particular.

GO FAST AND DIVE DEEP.

Tests Here and on the Pacific Coast Show that These Craft Will Be What They Were Built for, Awfully Destructive Naval Engines.

It is a far cry from the original Holland torpedo boat launched a few years ago at Elizabethport and tried out with no particular success by the Navy Department and the improved types of submarine craft now being tested at various points throughout the country.

mental boat, was disappointing in many respects the new boats, particularly the Adder and Moccasin, undergoing tests off Greenport, L. I., and the Grampus, tested a few days ago at San Francisco. have surpassed the requirements made for them as to speed and every other desirable quality.

The Adder and the Moccasin, according to the terms of the contract, are required to run eight knots an hour on the surface in a light condition and seven knots an hour, carrying a full crew and weights equalling a full coment of torpedoes. Awash-that is, with only the top of the deck showing above the surface—the requirements called for a speed of from seven to even and one-half knots, and, entirely nerged, for a speed of seven knots Exceed the Requirements.

All of these requirements have been exceeded by the boats. There remain in discharging torpedoes. No doubt exwho have seen the performances of the boats that these tests will be as successful as the early ones.

Out in San Francisco the Grampus has been tried on the surface and halfsubmerged and has exceeded the re-quirements even more decisively than have the boats being put through their paces off Greenport. The Grampus, the Adder and the Moccasin are all of the same improved type, and from all ap-pearances are forerunners of a great fleet of submarine craft to be attached to the United States Navy.

The main point of improvement ob servable over the original Holland boat the increase in size, allowing for more and heavier machinery and also providing more roomy quarters for the crew. In the first Holland everything was so cramped that an accident to any part of the machinery was almost certain to affect the whole motive power of the boat. In the new type there is room enough to allow the entheres to perform their work without difficulty, and the various compilcated mechanisms are widely separated.

Gustave Sherman, a messenger boy, thirteen years old, and the sole support of his widowed mother, was found dead in bed to-day at No. 100 Rapelye street. Brooklyn. His sleeping room was filled with illuminating gas.

When Mrs. Sherman went to arouse her son for work she found him unconscious. Her cries brought in her neighbors, and the police were called to Size Must Be Limited. There is a limit to the size of submarine boats, because it is necessary that they should present as small a surface as possible to the guns of the enemy. They are built of light steel plates and a few well-directed small shot would sink one without trouble. It is probable that no larger boats than the Adder, Moccasin and Grampus will be built by this Government.

Where the Holland, submerged, had a displacement of 74 tons, the new hoats have a displacement of 122 tons, They carry more than twice the horse-power for surface and submarine propulsion that the old Holland carried and have capacity for firing five torpedoes without reloading, whereas the

The police found that the gas cock in the room was defective. Evidently the lad had turned the gas on after he put it out, as there was no catch in the bracket.

Theoretically, the stomarine torpedobeat is the most destructive engine of war ever created, and is particularly adanted for coast defense. The recent triels of the new type have shown that it is not unreasonable to assume that practical results will measure up with the theory.

Hiley, a young man of Kearny, N. J., Committed suicide early this morning. His body was found near the Catholic Protectory in Arlington. Riley had sat up against the fence and, placing a revolver to his forenead, blew out his brains. Riley kept company with a young woman who also resided in the breaking of their engagement.
